Subject: Scope of Practice Consultation

To whom it may concern, our practice would like to reiterate the views of the Australian Dental Association with respect to the proposed scope of practice consultation.
Dental surgeons have different , extensive and intensive training that is not the same as that of auxiliary members of the dental team. For the sake of public interest and safety, can this be taken into account when making serious decisions for the future of the dental profession. It is not always just about reducing the cost of dental treatment for consumers !

Kind regards,

Dr Jim Giannis - Dental Surgeon
