

Dental Board
Ahpra

Hi there!

Studying for a dental qualification?

Great!

Yep!

Did you know?

The Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (Ahpra) and the Dental Board of Australia (the Board) work together to regulate dental practitioners and students in the National Registration and Accreditation Scheme.

Your education provider has already registered you as a student with the Board.

Don't worry, there are no fees 😊

Phew, more cash for coffees

As a registered student you now have regulatory obligations.

It's not scary, though. Just jump online to the Board's website where there's a short video to tell you all about it:

We'll get in touch just before you graduate.
In the meantime, don't be a stranger...
