

Studying for a dental qualification?

Great!

Dental Board of Australia | AHPRA

Yep!

Did you know?

The Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) and the Dental Board of Australia (the Board) are the two bodies that regulate health practitioners and students

Your education provider has already registered you as a student with the Board.

Don't worry, there are no fees 😊

Phew, more cash for coffees

As a registered student you now have regulatory obligations

It's not scary, though. Just jump online to the Board's website to find out more:

We'll get in touch after you graduate.
In the meantime, don't be a stranger...
